ELECTRONIC FUNDS TRANSFER PAYMENTS

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, I want to take a few minutes to announce a temporary tax victory for small business taxpayers. The IRS has made a failed attempt to implement new rules for payroll tax deposits. These rules would require many employers to make their biweekly payroll tax deposits electronically.

On July 12, I authored a letter to Treasury Secretary Rubin and IRS Commissioner Margaret Milner Richardson. This letter discussed problems that employers and banks are having in understanding new payroll tax deposit rules and methods.

First, my letter asks Secretary Rubin to address specific questions posed by employers and their banks. Employers and their banks have a growing series of questions about the new procedures. Many of these center around the degree of access that IRS has to bank customers' accounts. Second, the letter reminds the Secretary that he has authority under the law to provide some regulatory relief for small businesses.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the text of my letter be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the letter was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

U.S. SENATE,

Washington, DC, July 12, 1996.

Secretary ROBERT E. RUBIN,
Department of the Treasury,
Washington, DC.

DEAR SECRETARY RUBIN: This letter is to express our great concern of the impact upon small businesses and their banks of new Electronic Fund Transfer (EFT) rules. We hope that you will act in accordance with Congressional intent to ensure that the regulations do not create hardships for small businesses. We also wish that you will answer specific questions posed by our constituents working in the banking industry.

SMALL BUSINESS CONCERNS

Because the current EFT rules create new and significant burdens for small businesses, and because the tax code specifically allows for exceptions from the EFT rules for small businesses, we request that you take immediate action to clarify the necessary exceptions well in advance of the January 1, 1997 effective date.

Small employers presently utilize the Federal tax deposit (FTD) coupon system and their local bank to make periodic payroll tax deposits with the Federal government. Internal Revenue Code Section 6302(h) seeks to reduce paperwork by replacing the FTD coupon system with an electronic fund transfer system. However, Congress intended, as set out in section 6302(h) and its legislative history, that the regulations prescribe exemptions and alternatives to the EFT rules for small businesses. To date, these exemptions and alternatives have not been promulgated.

As a result, employers and their banks are confused. The current regulations seem to require EFT compliance by all employers that had made employment tax deposits exceeding $50,000 in 1995. In anticipation of the approaching effective date, the Internal Revenue Service has begun the process of educating employers of their new EFT compliance requirements. Nonetheless, small and rural employers know that the Congress intended that they be exempt, and they are eager to see the intended exemptions.

In part, the legislative history of the new law prescribes the following.
